If there's a hole in a' your coats, I rede ye tent it;
A chief's among you taking notes, And faith he'll prent it."

WOLFE COUNTY.

Flat Facts.

J. Newton Vaughn passed through our section the 10th inst., enroute home from Beattyville.

Jack Frost sat heavily on the sugar cane of this section, causing the farmers to "hustle" to get their winter's "sweet-nin'" boiled down so it wouldn't sour.

Levi Couch and daughter, Miss J. J. Couch, formerly of this county, but now of Owsley, paid us a pleasant visit recently. Mr. Couch reports the Democrats of his county solid for Hardin.

Since the appointment of the Hon. James K. Cockerham as deputy sheriff in this part of the county, there has been "the voice of one crying in the wilderness, money! money! for revenue only."

Hurrah for Hon. P. Watt Hardin. He has driven Col. Bradley from the stump. Langley has fallen, crushed beneath the weight of solid facts, and the brilliant star of Watt's destiny shines undimmed in the cloudless sky of Kentucky's Democracy, where it will still grow brighter and brighter, bursting into a flaming borealis when he is crowned governor of our grand old commonwealth.

STORM.

Lane Items.

W. J. Graham has just returned from Irvine, Estill county, where he has been on business.

I don't know whether I can stand to read THE HERALD during the election or not, it is so strong Democratic.

Miss Lou E. Hollon has been in a dangerous condition for some days with fever, but we are glad to say she is improving.

Rev. Mr. West preached the funeral of Caroline Taulbee, wife of Sewell Taulbee, Sunday, the 27th inst., at the new church.

Your scribe was delighted very much last evening by hearing Miss Zerilda Sewell play "Hardin's Defeat," which she had composed, on the organ.

We are authorized to announce Sam H. Kash and Thomas Hollon as candidates for matrimony, subject to the action of the female voters of Wolfe county.

Jas. A. and Benj. J. Sewell, John T. Graham and Sam H. Kash, of Lane, attended the W. O. Bradley speaking at Jackson Friday, and report the largest crowd of Republicans present they ever saw, and the best speaking. Rats!—Ed.

Pollyann Tyra, an old lady who had been sick for some time, but had gotten better and could eat and sit in her chair Monday, was found dead in bed Tuesday morning. She was in a pool of blood and it was thought she had been murdered by parties who wanted her estate. 'Squire Chambers was summoned and an inquest held over the body. She was pronounced to have died a natural death. Her husband, Harvey Tyra, was killed from the bushes 18 years ago, and she has had a hard time ever since trying to raise the little ones.

SHANGHAI.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Caney Callings.

Married, Oct. 24, Miss Whitt, daughter of William Whitt, of Caney, to Mr. George Keeton, son of Harvey Keeton, now in Texas. May they live long and prosper in this life is the wish of your scribe.

Deputy United States Marshal Green Lacy arrested and took to Salyersville for examining trial Thomas Williams and two of the Jones boys for stilling, and Frank Brown for selling whisky. Brown was acquitted, and the other boys were bound over to the United States court at Covington.

Your scribe had the pleasure of attending the finest meeting at Grassy Lick last Sunday that I have had for some time. There were several funerals preached. Among the preachers were James Wheeler, David Williams, Dr. W. L. Gevedon, Logan Johnson and Wilse Lykins. All preached able sermons to a large and well behaved congregation. After meeting there was one of the finest basket dinners ever served on Grassy. In fact, a good time in general, but we are sorry to say Dr. Gevedon lost his hat at the windup of the occasion, but we think he will have the luck to find it again. NED.

POLITICAL SPEAKING.—Major W. J. Seitz, Republican candidate for the legislature for this district, will meet Hon. Jo C. Lykins, the Democratic nominee, at the following places and discuss the issues of the day:

Paint, Thursday, Oct. 31.
White Oak, Friday, Nov. 1.
Salem, Saturday, Nov. 2.

Speaking at 1 o'clock p. m. All cordially invited to attend.

A Card From Green R. Kellar.

Editor—Dear Friend: Please say to the Populists and Prohibitionists of your county that as they have no candidate on their ticket for railroad commissioner, that I most respectfully solicit their support. I shall be obliged if they will make a cross in the square opposite my name, and if elected I promise to give my best efforts to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and honestly.

Respectfully,

GREEN R. KELLER.

Carlisle, Ky., Oct. 26th 1895.

P. S. Of course I solicit the votes of all Democrats.

Public Speaking.

Hon. Jos. C. Lykins, Democratic candidate for Representative from Morgan and Wolfe counties, will address the people of the two counties at the following times and places:

Thursday, Oct. 31.

White Oak, Morgan county, Friday, Nov. 1.

Salem, Morgan county, Saturday, Nov. 2.

Campton, Wolfe county, Monday, Nov. 4.

Speaking will begin at 1 o'clock p. m. Everyone feeling themselves interested in the affairs of the country is respectfully invited to be present. Hon. W. J. Seitz and Hon. Wm. Burch are requested to meet me at said appointments and a division of time will be given each.

Will Colvin, of West Liberty, who was betrothed to Miss Stella Kash, who died Sunday night, was completely prostrated when he heard the news, and, when he came over and saw her corpse his grief knew no bounds. He was well-nigh crazy, and elicited the sympathy of every one. He can not be comforted or consoled and his friends fear that he may be taken down with severe illness. Poor fellow, we pity him from deep down in our heart, but he should be consoled with the thought that

"All that's bright must fade,

The brightest still the fleetest:

All that's sweet was made

But to be lost when sweetest."

If you are indebted to this office on subscription, job work or advertising, you will oblige us very much by coming to the Captain's office and paying your dues. We need a little of the filthy lucre about as bad as a hobo does a meal's victuals at times, and your promptness will relieve our distress and be forever appreciated. Never mind the rush. Come on and we'll try and attend your wants.

We will take good sound corn on all subscriptions due this office, where parties have not the money, and allow 33¢ cents per bushel. The corn to be delivered at this office.

Wanted,

500 bushels of good Wheat. Will pay 75¢ per bushel on notes and accounts, or in merchandise, including flour, (S. P. Kerr brand) wheat to be delivered at my store in Hazel Green.

J. T. DAY.

Frank Hazelrigg, of West Liberty, who came over Monday to attend the funeral and burial of Miss Stella Kash on Tuesday, returned home Wednesday.

I wish to call the attention of my friends to my fall and winter stock of cape and dress goods, kid gloves, hosiery, caps, Tam-o'-shanters, suitors in all styles, walking hats, and in fact hats to go all gait.

Mrs. F. N. DAY.

Hon. J. C. Lykins will address the people of Hazel Green on Saturday night next, Nov. 2, and Jas. H. Swango will also speak at the same time.

STELLA KASH.

"God's Finger Touched Her and She Slept."

The angel of death has again visited our little village, and with his sickle keen has laid low the fairest flower that ever grew among us. Only last week she moved like an angel among her earthly friends, ministering to their wants and speaking words of love and cheer; today her body is numbered with the pale nations of the dead and her spirit, gentle as a seraph's, has winged its flight to God who gave it. The very picture of health, can we think she has gone from us? Yea, though it be, her life still speaks messages of love, hope and faith. Rightly was she christened, "Stella," a star. God never created one more fair or made one more constant and none ever pointed more surely to heaven than she, the memory of whose love and life is an inspired page, teaching us the ways of peace and binding us closer, dear Lord, our souls to thee. And then her guileless innocence, her retiring modesty, her virgin purity encompassed her with a charm in whose hallowed sphere no guilty thought could live. She was born Sept. 27, 1878, and died October 27, 1895.

Surely every tear she has wiped away (and many know her good deeds) will be crystalized into precious jewels that will adorn her crown of immortality. But oh her grave; her young grave; from its bosom spring none but fond regrets and tender memories, for her life was a grand sweet song; a living exponent of the one great truth that we should live but for the sole purpose to die. What a place for meditation. In living letters it speaks of christian virtues and gentleness; of kind words and good deeds. Father! He is basking in the tender sunshine of her love. Mother! (hallowed be the name) and may your heart not bleed in vain. Brother, sisters, learn a lesson from her life, fragrant as the rose that marks her vacant pew in God's sanctuary. Lover! God pity him, and may an all kind providence bind up his broken heart and point his tearful, grief-worn eyes to scenes beyond the grave, where virtue's blossoms always blow, and fear no wintry blast. May those who loved her here find solace in the poet's song:

"There is no death,
What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian,
Whose portals we call death."

Stella was the daughter of Jos. M. and Ellen Kash, the former now deceased. She leaves to mourn her loss, her mother, a brother, three sisters and her fiancé, W. T. Colvin, of West Liberty, besides a host of relatives and friends, for who ever knew her but to love her, or named her but to praise. She died of typhoid fever aggravated by heart trouble. Her death was like the falling to sleep of a babe and her last breath was as an angel whisper. She had been a member of the Christian church since childhood, and was a leader in all the church doings, and especially in the Christian Endeavor. Her untimely taking off is but another act of God's mysterious grace. Too pure for earth, He has called her and claimed her as his own.

Like the clinging vine that binds up the shattered bough, may God's love bind up the broken hearts of those who loved her and may her spirit be a guiding star for us all, is the prayer of one who knew and loved her. The funeral obsequies were performed at the Christian church by Prof. Cord and Rev. J. T. Pieratt. The remains were borne by six young men with as many young ladies as assistant pall bearers, the former dressed in black and the latter in white. They followed a little girl in white bearing a large bouquet of white flowers that now hangs over the seat of the deceased. The remains were interred in the family burial ground on one of the hill-tops east of town. All the schools declared a holiday and the public school, of which she was a teacher, adjourned two days.

Japanese Oil is said to be the most wonderful liniment for external application that scientific chemists have yet been able to compound. Hundreds and thousands testify to this, as it has saved both life and expense. Sold at this office at 40 cents a bottle. Try it, as it is a household necessity and always "a friend in need."

KENTUCKY ITEMIZED.

A RESUME OF THE IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Things of a Newsworthy Nature Rolled Down to Suit the Convenience of the Hasty Reader—Kentucky Down to Date.

Danville is now blessed with a complete system of water works.

The Lexington fair association has gone into voluntary liquidation.

The confederate monument at Lawrenceburg will be unveiled about the middle of November.

Ninety-five head of short horn cattle (dehorned, maybe), sold in Fayette last week for $2,807, an average of $29.55.

Postmaster H. C. Ashton, of Flemingsburg, is $1,200 short in his accounts, and his bondsmen have installed A. H. Evans in his stead.

Joe Knox, a farmer of Bath county, died of blood poisoning at his home near Sharpsburg, on Saturday night. He was about 60 years of age.

Mrs. Kate Marshall Sandford, of Covington, has sued Senator Wm. Goebel, of that city, for $100,000 damages for the murder of her husband last April.

Gov. Brown has fixed Friday, Nov. 8, as the day for hanging Columbus Phipps at Bowling Green. He killed his half-brother to prevent him from testifying against his son.

Ex Chief of Police John Anderson, who murdered Editor Joe Rucker at Somerset about three years ago, is in jail in the Dominion of Canada, and will be taken to Somerset this week.

In his speech at Lawrenceburg Friday, Hon. Robert J. Breckinridge appealed to the Lord to save the state from Republican rule. Bob is a good man, and his prayer will be answered next Tuesday at about dark.

Bamberger, Bloom & Co., one of the largest wholesale dry goods houses in Louisville, has assigned to the Columbia Finance and Trust company for benefit of creditors Liabilities $1,200,000 and assets nominally the same.

The October term of the Woodford circuit court convened at Versailles on Monday. There are four murder cases on the docket, one of them being that of Joe Lane, the Mt. Sterling man, for the murder of H. C. Rodenbaugh and James Rodenbaugh.

At Downingsville, in Grant county, Bill and Milt Burgess shot and instantly killed Al Johnson Saturday last. They had been playing cards when a dispute arose and Johnson started to run and was shot in the back. The murderers are in jail at Williamstown.

There is one remedy which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel damped with this liniment and bound on over the seat of pain will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by John M. Rose, druggist.

Died, at her home on Long Branch, Mrs. Louis DeBusk. She leaves a husband, and an infant child unguarded by her care. She was the daughter of Squire Ambrum and had only been married a little over a year. Her friends should rejoice to know that it will be their privilege to meet her in the blissful beyond.

The condition of Fletcher McGuire, whose illness we have reported, remains practically unchanged, though he rests easier. Drs. Taulbee and Thomas are attending him.
